SAL DE LOS ANDES

3. Sal de los Andes Gourmet Line

Crafted through one of the finest processes in food production and gourmet cooking. These salts are left to rest for at least 3 months alongside fresh spices and herbs. During this time, the salt naturally dehydrates the ingredients, resulting in a perfectly balanced product — ideal for seasoning any type of dish.

Our secret at Sal de los Andes is none other than the quality of our raw material. We work with one of the purest salts in the world, reaching up to 98% sodium chloride purity.

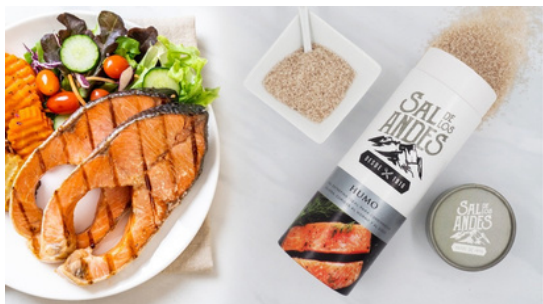

Unlike commercial salts, our gourmet varieties offer complex and diverse flavor profiles, adapting seamlessly to a wide range of dishes — from meats and seafood to vegetables and sauces. Each of our salts is carefully designed to enhance the authenticity of the ingredients, never overpowering them.

Our artisanal processes honor traditional methods of salt harvesting and preparation, respecting the cultural heritage of the region and supporting local development.
