CSR

Given the very nature of the agriculture industry, which consists of a variety of stakeholders ranging from plantation workers and factory workers to communities in the vicinity. We take great pride in making our CSR efforts towards these stakeholders especially in our decision making process.

It is essential that Nile advocates for CSR efforts such as fair wages of plantation workers, cleaner work spaces to prevent illness and educational programs for employees. Carrying out these efforts would in turn provide a more happy, healthy and efficient workforce.

Contributing to communities such as health checks and youth educational programs are areas that Nile hopes on initiative partnered with healthcare providers such as Nawaloka Medical Centres and the Foundation of Goodness.
