

TRADITION SINCE 1685

DISCOVER OUR HISTORY

Beer from Bojanowo was firstly mentioned in 1685, however the Brewery became the most famous from 1881 when it was bought by entrepreneur Franz Junke. His family was known for beer brewing traditions. At this time first steam engines appeared in the Brewery, supplying the whole Bojanowo town in electricity. Despite brewing beer the Brewery was also producing sparkling water, non-alcoholic beverages and its own malt. Beers from Bojanowo Brewery won awards in some European countries such as England.

TRADITION SINCE 1685

HOW IS IT NOWADAYS?

The Brewery entered the register of monuments. This means its architecture is protected under Polish law. But inside we're making investments all the time, to make sure our quality is always the highest. The Brewery is producing more and more beer with each year and expands the portfolio with new products.

HOW DO WE PROUDLY PRODUCE?

Our beers are open fermented, which means the yeasts can do their work without any pressure. Open fermentation also allows carbon dioxide to purify our beer from any bad alcohol fractions. That's why after long night with our beers you don't have a hangover!

Three level beer maturation room has automatic temperature control. We're keeping stable, low temperature during the whole process of maturation which takes at least 4 weeks in perfect conditions.
