Ireland First Field to Glass Distillery

In the summer of 2013 our vision to create Ireland's first field-to-glass distillery became a reality when the first spirit trickled from Echlinville's stills

From growing, harvesting and floor malting our barley, to mashing and fermenting the grains, distilling and maturing the spirit, to bottling and labelling our products, everything is done right here at Echlinville, our farm distillery.

Our roots are firmly, and quite literally, in the Ards Peninsula. We grow, produce and employ local and that is something we are incredibly proud of.

THE SPIRIT OF BELFAST

“If there is one distillery whose rise and demise parallels that of the Irish distilling industry as a whole, it is The Royal Irish Distilleries... Whiskey writers still lament its passing and scratch their heads about how it could have been allowed to happen... While every distillery lost to Ireland is a cause for sorrow, the loss of Royal Irish can rightly be called a tragedy.”

Brian Townsend, The Lost Distilleries of Ireland, 1977
